

Canadian Prime Ministers Autograph Collection Featuring Rare Signatures at Auction

Auction Ends March 5, 2013

Delson, Quebec, Canada – February 25, 2013 – A Mare Usque Ad Mare, Canada's Prime Minister presides over the country from sea to sea to sea. There have been 22 different people to hold this prestigious office in all, beginning with Sir John A. Macdonald, whose signature is featured amid this staggering collection of 16 Canadian Prime Ministers autographs.

On its own, a Macdonald autograph sold in recent years for just under $8,000. This rare and highly desirable collection is likely to sell in the range of $15,000 at auction.

Grouped as a whole, this extensive collection presents an opportunity that seldom surfaces with the signatures of Bowell, Tupper, Laurier, Meighen, Mackenzie King, Bennett, St. Laurent, Diefenbaker, Pearson, Trudeau, Clark, Turner, Mulroney, Campbell and Chretien also featured.

Established since 1995, Classic Auctions is the historical hockey memorabilia auction industry leader. Our record-obliterating $1.275 million sale at auction of Paul Henderson's 1972 Team Canada "The Goal" game-worn jersey demonstrates the incredibly powerful emotional and patriotic attachment these treasures illicit from historical memorabilia collectors.
